

ACC 4-H'ers Attend Statewide Junior Conference

12 seventh and eighth grade Athens-Clarke County 4-H members traveled to the Rock Eagle 4-H Center for the State 4-H Junior Leadership Conference on November 7th and 8th. Over 700 delegates from across the state attended the annual event. The theme for the 2009 Junior Conference was "4-H's Got Talent!"

Wildlife Judging Winners

Junior and Senior 4-H Wildlife Judging teams went to state competition at Rock Eagle on Saturday, November 7th. The senior team placed second at the competition. Members of the senior team included: Caitlin Clark, Andy Kim, Chris Silcox, and Patrick Silcox. Members of the junior team included; Rebecca Butler, Jessica Lagarino, and Kira Pollack. Congratulations to both teams!

Consumer Judging Competition

The district Consumer Judging/Cotton Boll Jamboree was held in Gainesville on November 12th. Junior and Senior teams from Athens-Clarke County competed with teams from 20 counties in the competition. Congratulations to everyone who competed!

Radon Poster Contest Winners

A number of ACC students were recognized at the state award ceremony for the Radon Poster Contest. Students created posters to draw attention to the need for awareness of the hazards of radon gas and how easy it is to test your home.

2009 Parade of Lights

Thinking of the theme for this year's holiday parade, "A Gift From the Heart", 4-H members constructed a house for our entry in the Athens-Clarke County Parade of Lights. The house was decorated for the holidays and was accompanied with a sign stating "Home is Where the Heart Is." Thanks to everyone who helped to make this year's float!
