

Expanding Opportunities in Aquaculture

As ocean catches of seafood continue to decline, aquaculture production must increase to meet rising seafood demands. A varied program of presentations will be held at FVSU including the following topics: Marketing strategies for aquaculture, Georgia aquaculture update, loan information and disease prevention and biosecurity in aquaculture systems. Tours will be conducted of the recirculating aquaculture (RAS) and aquaponic systems and tilapia culture in various types of RAS in on-campus greenhouses.

November 5, 2009

102 C.W. Pettigrew Farm and Community Life Center
Fort Valley State University
1:00-5:00 pm

Sponsored by

Georgia Center for Aquaculture Development
Fort Valley State University

contact: Dr. Pat Duncan

duncanp@fvsu.edu, 478-825-6575

or Ann Gillespie at 478-825-6335

Registration $5.00